A life surrounded by nature is a privilege. There is something really special about creating a meal from tomatoes you have grown and eating it with a glass of wine that originates from the grapes grown in front of your property. It's indescribable. There is nothing quite like it. If this is what you like and if you have the idea of buying a luxury villa inside a beautiful vineyard, this is your chance! In this unique, one-of-a-kind project, The villas offers you the option to become the owner of a spacious villa in traditional Spanish Cortijo style. There is the possibility to build one cortijo between 350-600m² or maximum 3 cortijos between 150-220m². Of course you could also consider buying and renovating an old property, but that won't give you the chance to create it 100% to your own taste, neither will you reach optimum sustainability. When buying your new villa in Yecla, together with our architect you will create a home that suits you perfectly and will be highly sustainable regarding water use, energy consumption and thermal isolation, among others. The vineyard has a beautiful location at the foot of a mountain and covers an area of 65,000 m², including your individual plot of minimum 21,000 m².
